

Attributes of the Nurse “Caring” Model

- Overall excellence of nursing care
- Concern demonstrated by staff
- Anticipation of needs by team
- Individualization of patient/family education
- Skill demonstrated in the provision of care
- Respect shown to patients/families, team members, and other healthcare providers
- Decreased sense of isolation
- Team communication
- Commitment to working as a team
- Caring as the core of nursing practice